Transmission Stop-Leak

Stops leaks and prevents seepage due to hardening of transmission seals. Revitalizes seals, and restores their plasticity. Smooths shifting and quiets operations. Transmission fluid level should be checked every 500 miles and changed according to the manufacturers instructions. NOTE: Stop-Leak is not a cure-all. It will not replace worn metal, nor revive seals which are cracked, flaked or broken. It will not compensate for mechanical defects. If leak-stop does not stop leaks, it may be necessary to replace seals.
